Foreword

I am proud to present the Office of the Children's Guardian first Multicultural Plan. The Plan will guide how our organisation plans for and supports our multicultural stakeholders and employees over the next three years 2020-2023.

At the Office of the Children's Guardian, we aim to provide child safe education, oversight and services that are accessible to all people of NSW. Being culturally responsive is about planning and delivering those services for a multicultural community, tapping into the benefits of a diverse and inclusive workforce, and ensuring that our stakeholders feel respected and supported when they work with us.

One of the key goals of this Multicultural Plan is to continue to develop a nurturing workplace and to celebrate the diversity of our people.

This commitment is important and has been made across NSW government agencies. For the Office of the Children's Guardian, it is particularly important in our work focusing on the safety and wellbeing of children, including vulnerable children.

It is fair to say children can pay a very high price for institutional and social intolerance and, conversely, reap strong rewards of resilience and support when diversity is welcomed.

In the same way, organisations like ours, benefit from genuine inclusion and diversity.

I am deeply committed to having a diverse and accepting culture at the Office of the Children's Guardian. Our organisational values provide the foundation for our employees to live those values outlined in our Strategic Plan.

This plan puts in place a strong organisational commitment to the NSW Premier's Priorities of Improving Government Services and Driving Public Sector Diversity.

While we are starting from a very welcoming and accepting place, I look forward to seeing how we develop and mature as an organisation in our approach to embedding cultural diversity and inclusion into our everyday business.

About the document

NSW Government agencies produce Multicultural Plans as part of their corporate planning responsibilities, with the objectives of improving access to services and reflecting the diversity of the NSW community in their workforce.

The Office of the Children's Guardian's Multicultural Plan is a public document.

The Office of the Children's Guardian

The Office of the Children's Guardian (OCG) is an independent statutory agency in NSW Government. We uphold children and young people's right to be safe.

The OCG Strategic Approach 2020-2023 sets our new purpose and vision which encompasses our new functions under the new Children's Guardian Act 2019.

Our purpose is to regulate and oversee organisations to uphold children and young people's right to be safe.

Our vision is to influence and lead change by building capability in organisations to be child safe.

Our strategic priorities are:

- Regulate, monitor and foster capability in quality child safe practices
- Strong outcomes orientated stakeholder relationships
- An integrated child safe authority supported by contemporary systems
- A great place to work and make a difference.

As part of the OCG's Strategic Approach 2020-2023, the OCG established a new set of values. The Multicultural Plan is underpinned by our values.

Our values

Integrity

Trust

Service

Accountability

Respect

Empathy

These new values guide the actions and decisions of every employee. Any organisation or person who interacts with our office can expect that their interactions with our employees will be underpinned by these values.

The Multicultural Plan 2020-2023 demonstrates our commitment to provide integrated oversight for promoting child safe practices, identify gaps in protection, monitor performance and trends, detect and act on non-compliance.

The Multicultural Plan outlines our objectives of improved access to services, development of programs aimed at identified needs, and a recognition of the contribution of our diverse workforce.

The Multicultural Plan reflects the NSW Premier’s Priorities, including Improving Government Services and Driving Public Sector Diversity.

Guiding principles

The NSW Multicultural Principles are a provision of the Multicultural NSW Act 2000 and state that:

- all individuals in NSW, irrespective of their linguistic, religious and ancestral backgrounds, should demonstrate a unified commitment to Australia, its interests and future
- all individuals in NSW should recognise the importance of shared values governed by the rule of law within a democratic framework
- the people of NSW are of different linguistic, religious and ancestral backgrounds who, either individually or in community with other members of their respective groups, are free to profess, practise and maintain their own linguistic, religious and ancestral heritage
- all individuals and institutions should respect and make provision for the culture, language and religion of others within an Australian legal and institutional framework where English is the common language
- all individuals in NSW should have the greatest possible opportunity to:

- contribute to, and participate in, all aspects of public life in which they may legally participate, and
- make use of, and participate in, relevant activities and programs provided or administered by the Government of NSW
- all institutions of NSW should recognise the linguistic and cultural assets in the population of NSW as a valuable resource and promote this resource to maximise the development of the State.

These principles will be integrated into our planning processes. All business units will be expected to play a role in advising, supporting and monitoring their implementation.

Governance, monitoring and reporting

Development and implementation of the Multicultural Plan is ultimately the responsibility of the Children's Guardian.

Progress of the Multicultural Plan will be reported each year as part of our Annual Report. A copy will be provided to Multicultural NSW and will be uploaded to our website.

Guiding principles

The OCG's functions are focused around upholding children and young people's right to be safe and regulating and overseeing organisations to uphold that right. These functions are outlined in Division 5 of the Children's Guardian Act 2019.

The primary functions of the OCG are to:

- accredit and monitor the designated agencies that arrange statutory out-of-home care in NSW
- maintain and monitor the NSW Carers Register, a centralised database of people who are authorised, or who apply for authorisation, to provide statutory or supported out-of-home care
- register and monitor agencies that provide, arrange or supervise voluntary out-of-home care
- accredit non-government adoption services providers
- authorise the employment of children under the age of 15, and child models under the age of 16, in the entertainment sector
- administer the Working With Children Check and encourages organisations to be safe for children
- administer the Reportable Conduct Scheme to monitor how certain organisations ('relevant entities') investigate and report on types of conduct ('reportable allegations' or 'reportable convictions') made against their employees, volunteers or certain contractors who provide services to children.
- administer the Child Sex Offender Counsellor Accreditation Scheme – a voluntary accreditation scheme for persons working with those who have committed sexual offences against children.

All are connected by the same goals and the same outcome: that child safety is practised and delivered.

Strategic alignment

The Multicultural Plan 2020-2023 supports the OCG Strategic Approach 2020-2023 objectives and the People and Culture 2020-2023 Strategic Plan.

Key outcomes

All NSW government agencies are expected to provide high quality services and programs for all people of NSW. The OCG has developed the Multicultural Plan 2020–2023 according to the NSW Government’s Multicultural Policies and Services Program (MPSP) which provides a whole-of-government policy framework with four focus areas: Service delivery; Planning; Leadership; Engagement.

Multicultural Policies and Services Program (MPSP) Framework

The Multicultural Plan 2020-2023 was developed in line with the four focus areas and nine outcomes outlined in the MPSP Framework tabled below. The MPSP Framework was introduced by Multicultural NSW in October 2016. The framework helps government agencies embed multicultural planning within core business operations and to meet planning and reporting requirements as set out in the Multicultural NSW Act 2000.

The MPSP Framework is outcome-focused and consists of:

Consultation governance

Stakeholder consultation

The Multicultural Plan 2020-2023 has been developed in consultation with some key agency stakeholders: Barnardos Australia; Multicultural NSW and Settlement Services International (SSI).

The stakeholder's role is to provide guidance and advice about addressing barriers to child safe practices from culturally diverse backgrounds.

Consultations for the development of this plan took place in 2020, to determine the barriers to participation for culturally and linguistically diverse people and to discuss strategies to address these barriers.

Employee consultation

The Multicultural Plan 2020-2023 has also been developed in consultation with employees. Employee consultation took place in 2020 and incorporate appropriate changes.
