NATIONAL PARKS AND WILDLIFE ACT 1974

Mack Reserve Aboriginal Place

IN pursuance of the powers vested in me under section 84 of the National Parks and Wildlife Act 1974, I, the Minister for the Environment, do, by this my order, declare such of the lands described hereunder as an Aboriginal Place. The place shall be known as Mack Reserve Aboriginal Place.

It is my opinion that this place is or was of special significance to Aboriginal culture. The values for which the Aboriginal Place is significant to Aboriginal culture includes it being a place for reflection on the spiritual link to ancestors, and of the impacts that early exploration and settlement of the area had on Aboriginal culture and communities. It was a living and camping place for Aboriginal families for many generations and is still utilised today as a source of bush foods and natural medicines. The area is a camping and teaching place and acts as a bush school where children learn from Elders of their ancestors, cultural practices and history, as well as being used for educating the wider community about Aboriginal culture.

Activities which might harm or desecrate this Aboriginal Place include, but are not limited to, the following: the erection of a building in the area; the carrying out of a work in, on or under the area; the subdivision of the area; and the clearing of native vegetation in the area.

Should any activities that may cause harm (harm includes destroy, deface or damage) to this Aboriginal Place be contemplated, consent should be sought from the Director General of the Department of Premier and Cabinet. Activities or works for the conservation or protection of the Aboriginal Place that are carried out by an officer of the Office of Environment and Heritage, or under the direction of such an officer, in accord with section 87A (a) of the Act, may be exempt.
